Before Bees

I will visit Royal Botanic Gardens Cranbourne to be part of a show called Bees.

Bees will take place in the Woodland Picnic Area Nature Playground.

There will be signs to direct me.

I will travel on a bush path to get there.

There will be other people visiting the Gardens, or going to Bees as well.

Some Polyglot people I might meet:

Lauren

Zak

Sophia

Tirese

During Bees

There will be paper and tape that I can use to turn myself into a bee.

I will hear sounds coming from speakers, and human-size bees will appear.

I can stand back and look at them, or I can go close to them.

The bees will make interesting movements.

I can try these movements, or make up my own.

Other children and their families will be moving around too.

My family can leave whenever we are ready or want to have a break.

When the Bees need to leave, they will start moving away and the sounds will fade.

Once the Bees have gone, that means the session is finished.

After Bees

I can explore the
Woodland Picnic Area
Nature Playground.

I can join the Royal
Botanic Gardens
Learning Team for some
Nature Play activities.

I can make a bee or another creature from natural materials.

I can learn a new skill, like leaf rubbing, or read a book in the chill out zone.

My family might like to visit another area of Cranbourne Gardens.

About Royal Botanic Gardens Victoria

Royal Botanic Gardens Victoria plays a leading role in the conservation of plants through biodiversity research, programs to protect rare and threatened plants, and the study of habitats. This work is supported by education and visitor programs about the importance of plants to life.

Royal Botanic Gardens Cranbourne is made up of the Australian Garden, an award-winning, contemporary botanic garden, and the surrounding 300 hectares of remnant native bushland (the Cranbourne Bushland). Cranbourne Gardens is recognised as a site of State significance for plant and wildlife conservation, home to over 25 endangered or rare and threatened species.
